

ANSWERS FOR ARTISTS

The Personal Property Securities Act

Camille Masson-Talansier, Journey of Fish, oil and acrylic on canvas. Image courtesy the artist.

DATE: Tuesday 15 May 2012

TIME: 5.45pm, for a 6pm start, until 8pm

LOCATION: The Gunnery L2, 43-51 Cowper Wharf Road Woolloomooloo

REGISTRATION: Numbers are limited.

To register for this important event visit <http://ppsa.eventbrite.com/>

COSTS:

$5 + booking fee for members or subscribers

$15 + booking fee for general admission

Please purchase tickets prior to the event.

Answers for Artists is a collaborative initiative between NAVA and the Arts Law Centre of Australia.

NAVA and Arts Law are holding a seminar on the impact of the Personal Property Securities Act on artists who deliver works on consignment to a commercial gallery or on loan for an exhibition. In this 2 hour seminar, panelists will:

- outline how the Act has changed the law and why artists now should consider registration on the Personal Property Securities Register to protect their rights
- explain the function of the new register and demonstrate how it works
- discuss personal experiences when faced with an insolvency situation
- answer questions from the audience.

PANELISTS ARE:

Andrew Sellars, Principal Legal Officer, Insolvency and Trustee Service Australia (ITSA)

Camille Masson-Talansier, Artist

Robyn Ayres, Executive Director, Arts Law Centre of Australia

Rebecca Laubi, Senior solicitor, Arts Law Centre of Australia

The National Association for the Visual Arts (NAVA)
www.visualarts.net.au
02 9368 1900

The Arts Law Centre
of Australia
www.artslaw.com.au
02 9356 2566